How to Disable DirectConnect

The Direct Connect peer-to-peer filesharing client from NeoModus, Inc. allows users to connect to "hub" servers which maintain indices of connected clients and the files available on them. These hubs are content based groupings much like channels in IRC which you can join to participate in a particular chat. In many cases hub operators may set a minimum amount of data which clients are required to share to participate on the hub. Therefore, once you have taken the following steps, you may find that you are not allowed to connect to many Direct Connect hubs. Unfortunately, this is unavoidable if you are to remain in compliance with University policy.

1. Select the Settings item from the menu bar.
